

‘A DAY IN THE YARD’ 2017

The Master Gardeners of Brunswick County offer a unique horticulture class for Brunswick County residents. The class provides the basic knowledge needed to maintain a yard and garden in our coastal plain of North Carolina.

This class is shorter and less expensive than the Master Gardener class and contains less science and more “how to” content. Entitled “A Day in the Yard”, the course is offered for people interested in learning more about maintaining their yard and garden but not able to commit to the full responsibilities of becoming a Master Gardener.

The cost of the class is $75.00. The proceeds from the class go to the Brunswick County Master Gardener Volunteer Association.

The class includes 6 – 2 ½ hour segments utilizing power point presentations and handouts. Each individual class is taught by a Master Gardener who might even be your neighbor.

Winter- Spring 2017 Class Schedule

February 6 - March 13	Extension, Bolivia	Mondays, 9AM--11:30AM
February 6 - March 13	Southport Library	Mondays 2PM-4:30PM
February 9 - March 16	Leland Library	Thursdays, 9:30AM-Noon
January 4 - February 8	Hickman Library, Calabash	Wednesdays, 2:30PM-5:00PM

The topics for the 6 segments are:

- Lawn and Irrigation
- Soil and Fertilization
- Woody Ornamentals and Pruning
- Annuals, Bulbs & Perennials
- Insects and Diseases
- Vegetables.

To learn more about this Brunswick County Master Gardener Program contact Tom Woods, Master Gardener Volunteer Coordinator, tom_woods@ncsu.edu or you can call the Cooperative Extension office at 910-253-2610.